Summertime with the Underdogs

It is difficult to believe that half the year has already passed and here at Underdogs, we have had a packed few months!

Make a difference to dogs who have nothing and nobody.

Love Underdogs rely on your donations to continue our work.

Thank you 😊

CAN YOU SPARE

On the agenda for underdogs has been an increase in our contribution to the work in Romania, which we talk about in details in this magazine. It is important that as much as possible is done to tackle the issues at source. This includes better conditions for the dogs in Romania waiting at shelters, increased neutering actions, education and managing public shelters to improve conditions and stop the bloody killing of dogs brought in by dog catchers.

Here in the UK, as some of you may be aware, we are now operating from different kennels located in Waltham Abbey, Essex.

Our medical cases however have been given the opportunity to be located at The Grove dog Hotel in Staffordshire, whilst they are having their procedures and during their recovery.

It is closer to our specialist clinic, 'The Willows referral clinic' and they are staying in the lap of luxury at a very special rate during their recovery.

We are very grateful to both Southend Kennels and The Grove for having offered us exceptional kennel fees.

Over the last few months, we have managed to significantly reduce the cost of rehoming the Romanian dogs in the UK, as well as increase the one to one care we are able to give them.

As a direct consequence of these savings, we are now able to do more in Romania, and will be resuming transports from Romania to the UK in September.

We will introduce you to a few cuties due to travel in this edition and go through the additional help we have been able to provide in Romania.

As always THANK YOU for your support, we could not do all this work without your generosity, enthusiasm and love of the Romanian dogs.

Are you my family?

Yasmin is one of our very wonderfully colourful characters, a dog with a huge heart, who despite having suffered a lot in her early life is a glass half full kind of girl.

She was born in spring 2013 and had a rough start, having to have one of her legs amputated following an accident. We also detected on recent Xrays an old fracture to the pelvis, which means she bunny hops ever so slightly on her right back leg.

She was seen by the orthopedic team at the Willows clinic and the expert opinion is that nothing further can be done, and in actual fact she doesn't really seem to be hindered by it.

As for much of Yasmin's experience of life, most things are exciting, including visits to the vets and travelling in the car.

She also has a soft spot for small furies, she is really gentle with them and has a very motherly side to her.

Who am I?

Name: Yasmin
Sex: Female
Size: Large
Age (approx): 3-7 years old
Weight: 28.5 Kg

Who am I happy with?

Other Dogs in the Home: Some Other Dogs Outside: Most Cats: Yes
Children: 16+ Years Old

Any other info?

Available for Home Trial: Yes
Available for Foster: Yes
UK Vet Checked: Yes
Neutered: Yes
Micro chipped: Yes
Passport: Yes

What am I like?

Social butterfly:
I am a charmer and will want fuss from most people even strangers

Couch Potato:
I enjoy watching the world go by and chill on my bed

Foodie:
I will work for treats and enjoy tucking into my meals

Cuddle Monster:
I am very affectionate and love a fuss

What are my skills?

Lead manners:
I have great lead manners once I get on with my walk!

"Yasmin is a real head-turner, she gets a lot of 'Awws' "

Yasmin is a real head turner, she does get a lot of 'Awws' when she walks in the park, and her ears are her trademark. They look like they should belong to a giant angora rabbit really!

We believe that she, herself is a Carpathian shepherd cross, a wonderful breed that comes from her native Transylvania.

Yasmin is very keen on treats, but must watch her weight because she is quite heavy set for a front leg amputee. She likes to take the occasional break during her walks to rest, and of course it is an excellent excuse for a session of belly rubs, which she loves!

She is one of our most demonstratively affectionate dogs, so will need a family with plenty of time and love to give. It's not hard to fall in love with this girl though, she gets attached quickly and has perfected the look of love.

Yasmin also likes to play, and needs the exercise in order to keep trim, but would suit a family that is not looking for a very active dog.

Yasmin would benefit from living with an experienced home to help her with some underlying insecurities, give her guidelines. She needs to be with people who will want to understand her and her needs.

Whoever adopts her will most certainly bring a lot of happiness into their lives and the commitment to her own happiness, will be a very rewarding one.

In April this year, we relocated our dogs to different kennels. The majority of our furry friends are now being rehomed from Southend Farm Kennels in Waltham Abbey, Essex, and our medical cases who are either awaiting treatments or in recovery are staying at the Grove Dog Hotel in Lichfield, Staffordshire.

You can learn more about our new kennels and their facilities, by visiting:

We would like to extend our deepest gratitude to both establishments for welcoming our dogs and offering us incredibly generous rates. This is enabling us to continue our rehoming operation in the UK which is much needed again, as to the scope of our work is being extended to a new pound in Romania.

Little bears just instinctively know how to climb trees which is the first thing they did after having been in the pool

The bear necessities

Our friends and partners in Romania, AMP which stands for Asociatia Milioane de Prieteni, or Association Millions of Friends, rescued 2 orphan bears a few months ago...

Those tiny babies were the size of puppies when they were first found and required round the clock care. Oana David and Ciprian David who run the dog shelter took care of them for the crucial weeks before they were able to eat solid food.

AMP have created a magnificent bear sanctuary in the Carpathian mountains, home to over 80 bears, rescued from terrible captive conditions and abuse.

In June the cubs were released into their very own cub enclosure, where they will stay for the next two years before joining the adults in the bear forest.

They were like little children with not a care in the world on the day, despite the press and all of us watching them like worried parents seeing their kids off on their first day at school!

Enjoy a few pictures of the first moments in their very own little forest and their pool.

Thank You Willows!

Thank You Julius K-9!

In May this year, we received an incredibly generous donation from our wonderful vets, Willows veterinary practice and referral clinic. We have so much to thank the Willows for, they look after all our medical cases with such exceptional care and expertise.

We were deeply touched when we heard that they were also donating to help our dogs. It is an incredibly generous donation and it will make a huge difference to us.

The donation will go towards neutering 50 dogs as part of our ongoing neutering campaign with our partners in Brasov, Romania.

Willows have given so many of our dogs a new lease of life and we are honoured to be the recipient of such a generous gift.

Thank you from each and every one of us, two, three and four legged.

For more info visit:

A HUGE thanks to John Warburton and the wonderful team at Julius K9 for their support to our dogs.

All our dogs in kennel now have their very own Julius K9-Harness and the kennels look incredibly colourful!

We have K9 harnesses in stock so when our friends go to their families, they have the possibility to go home with a harness they are used to walking in.

As quite a few of our dogs struggle with being handled by the collar due to being poled by the dog catchers, we find them really good.

The harnesses go over the head and under the belly, which means we don't have to try and get legs into straps. This is often very time consuming and difficult with some dogs.

For more on the harnesses, be sure to check out:

BRASOV, ROMANIA

with AMP "Millions of Friends"

AT THE SHELTER:

So much has happened at the shelter in the last 6 months! All the new kennels have now been installed, providing dogs with large indoor and outdoor pens...

All the dogs now have access to grassy areas on a daily basis, and the vet surgery and quarantine, which had to be rebuilt, is now completely operational.

This refurbishment has been made possible thanks to your wonderful donations and thanks to great contributions from BMT Germany, Brigitte Bardot France and WAP UK.

Our own participation was 30% of the cost of the surgery, foundations for all the new kennels, and the play areas.

Our first visit 5 years ago left us filled with sorrow at the sight of so many dogs living in such difficult conditions and we are delighted that the shelter is now a true refuge for the street dogs.

Some of you have asked why the group of NGO working with AMP in Romania decided to put so much into one shelter, whilst others have so little.

The answer is that when dogs are taken in from the street by the Victory shelter, AMP and their international partners are responsible for their welfare and living conditions.

We must ensure that these are good and we will continue to improve the daily care provided as part of our commitment to the dogs at the Victory shelter.

Additionally our partners in Romania are now looking to extend their remit to further pounds, this with the support of the international partners again.

Many dogs live in miserable conditions in public shelters and more must be done to help them.

It is important that those we are responsible for are given a decent life, and it is important to showcase in Romania, that street dogs have value and deserve good care.

Equally it is important to expand our remit to other public pounds where we can.

As always we are limited, but when opportunities arise that are manageable, we must take them.

The decisive factors, which play a role are not just funds, but equally importantly a political will to allow the AMP team to come and make changes.

Additionally, expanding a remit means finding the right people to manage the dogs care, with the animals interest at heart.

The new post operation ward in the vet surgery

New heated kennels
All kennels have an outdoor and an indoor part.

Shelley seen by the vet on arrival from the street.

The pool and 'Eurotunnel'

For the adults, a nice sand and small raised grass area. Planting grass over this free area is not possible so Oana, the shelter manager came up with this idea.

Foundation for heated kennels

At the Victory shelter, we funded at the end of last year the foundations of 7 new heated kennels, which were bought and delivered by BMT Germany. Those facilities will be much appreciated come the winter this year.

Night time security cover

With regards to dog care, we identified that in order for our dogs to get more attention individually, despite there being over 300 of them at Victory, we needed to release the staff as much as possible from time consuming tasks. One resource/time consuming part of the job is night cover.

Love Underdogs is now covering the cost of night time security guards.

This means that the staff, who know the dogs, can dedicate all their time taking care of the animals during their day shifts.

They have been able to incorporate some dog grooming, walking and more play time.

We are conscious that whilst the dogs await an opportunity to come to the UK or Germany, it is important that they are socialised and have interactions with people.

Play area for puppies

The work is coming to completion to give the puppies a super play area. The lucky little boys and girls have access to their own Eurotunnel.

The dogs who have no access to a grassy play area have been given a sand pit with a small grass area built over the concrete. A little fresh water pool was even created because puppies LOVE water.

Vaccinations and boosters

In terms of medical care, Love Underdogs was able in the last two quarters to cover the cost of all the annual boosters of the shelter dogs as well as all vaccination courses for the arrivals.

We urge you to help us with this very important contribution.

Quite simply your donation of a vaccine could save a life. In the next semester, we expect again to see about 300 to 400 dogs admitted at the shelter, they will all need to be vaccinated.

Here is how you can help us with this vital work. Please consider giving a dog the gift of health.

The second and very important change we made, was to replace the supermarket donations of leftover food with quality dog food.

This is actually a costly and ambitious change, and we welcome any help we can get for this, from our friends and supporters.

Up until May this year, over two tons of food supplementing the low quality dry food received from various sources, was made up of donated supermarket left overs.

The staff spend a lot of time preparing the meals made out of bread, rice, sausages, salami and meat cuts. There was very little nutritional value and caused a great deal of stomach upsets.

Additionally it is worth mentioning that such high salt content and poor quality affected their immune system and general wellbeing.

So we now pay for 1.6 ton of dry food and 1 ton of wet food to be delivered every month at the shelter.

The staff is released from many hours of preparation, not only getting everything out of the packs and cutting up the food in small pieces ready to be cooked in the large casseroles, but also collecting it every day.

The workers would also have to collect old pallets that they would break up to make fire wood for the wood cooker.

This change is vital to give the dogs more care time by the staff, and a much better quality nutrition.

To help us buy food for the dogs we welcome your donations, we buy approximately 1kg of food with £1.

www.loveunderdogs.org/make-a-donation

To buy 5kg of food!

Preparing food with supermarket left overs is incredibly time consuming and the diet inconsistent and often poor, as it includes a lot of bread and salami.

Just some of the food regularly delivered to the shelter.

Baldwin, as we found him :(

AT THE PUBLIC SHELTERS:

Since 2013, AMP Romania, Love Underdogs and BMT Germany have set up a project with the public pound of Brasov to stop the killing, which had been unthinkable both in terms of numbers and animal cruelty.

10,000 dogs lost their lives at the Brasov pound in the 10 years prior to our intervention.

This had to stop and AMP made an agreement with the mayor of Brasov. They put in place their own manager to monitor entries, food distribution, to ensure that the dogs are grouped properly and safely, to administer vaccines and microchips as well as neuter.

In 2014, a small vet surgery was created on site, improving welfare for the dogs.

Love Underdogs support the salary of the pound manager and regularly supplement the pound with food for dogs who have done their 14 days and are not at the charge of the town anymore.

Obviously adoptions abroad from Victory means that dogs can leave the pound and have a chance to come to the UK and Germany. Since March 2013, no healthy dog has lost their life at the Brasov public pound.

During our visit to Romania in June this year, we visited the Zarnesti public pound with Cristina and Roger Lapis, founders and presidents of AMP. Zarnesti is a town outside of Brasov.

Until this year, they had not been able to discuss a possible memorandum of agreement with the town and mayor to work together towards a stray management plan and pound presence.

The town has generated a lot of stray dogs over the years, which resulted in much cruelty.

Some of you may remember the Zarnesti illegal kill shelter from where 47 survivors were rescued, including some of our much loved characters, such as Basil and Renata.

The dogs at this pound not only need a lot more care but some have been found in terrible conditions. We recently posted very graphic and shocking pictures of dogs who were rescued from there early July by our partners and taken to the shelter for urgent medical care. You can view them on our Uncensored Facebook page, Romanian Underdogs Uncensored. <https://www.facebook.com/profile.php?id=305096312941078&fref=ts>

During our own visit in June, we took out a dog with a chain wrapped around his neck - embedded in his neck.

Baldwin is a gorgeous character, the chain he was attached to was too short for him to get shelter from the elements in the wooden kennel provided for him and his food supply constituted of a few pellets thrown over his long standing feces.

Baldwin will be joining the next transport and we cannot wait to welcome him. Given this new situation, our work rehoming in the UK, and not just in Germany, is now becoming very important again if we want to ensure the safety of the dogs. We will be looking to send funds to neuter as many dogs as we can regionally and hope sincerely that our supporters will understand how vital this particular area of the work is.

It costs around £25 to neuter a dog in Romania, any help towards this vitally important work is welcome.

Bubbles

Sometimes our lives are touched by gentle friends who stay only for a while... but remain forever in our hearts.

RIP Bubbles

It is with great sadness that we have to share with you the news that Bubbles has passed away in our German sanctuary.

Everyone was very attached to this special boy and he will be greatly missed. Bubbles was diagnosed with cancer and we knew that he would only be with us a short amount of time.

He spent this time with his usual flair for requesting treats and cuddles from everyone and getting both in abundance.

Your fur always hid a pair of wings, may they take you now on many adventures xx

Food appeal

We NEED your support!

The victory shelter in Brasov is home to 300 to 400 dogs. These furry friends consume a lot of food!

Additionally, we need to supply food to the Brasov shelter dogs whose 14 days supported by the town have expired.

How will it benefit the dogs?

- Good nutritional value and consistency.
- Less tummy upsets
- Improved overall health
- The shelter staff can dedicate much more of their time to care for the dogs, walking, free running, grooming etc

All in all, AMP go through nearly 4 tons of food a month. Currently over 2 tons are supplemented with supermarket left overs.

The staff at Victory and the pound cook a sort of porridge out of rice, bread, sausages, salami and meat cuts.

The whole process is very time consuming. The staff have to collect food daily, as well as the wood for the fire to cook the porridge on.

They have to open all the tins, cut up the bread and meat and prepare enough for over 600 meals a day.

Moreover and more importantly, the meals are actually very unhealthy for the dogs, the salt content is too high and the nutritional value is inadequate.

So we have set ourselves the goal to buy 1.6 ton of dry food and 1 ton of wet food which costs us a little over £1 per kilo of food.

PLEASE HELP US BY MAKING A MONTHLY DONATION

Thank You

Coming to the UK

Hello my name is Baldwin and I was rescued by Love Underdogs and AMP from the Zarnesti pound.

I had been there attached on a chain wrapped around my neck since October 2015.

When they found me, my chain was too short for me to get shelter in the little wooden house near me, I had no water and a few pellets of food thrown over my feces.

The chain had embedded itself into my neck and Ciprian Cocianu, my vet, had to clean up a deep wound on arrival at the Victory shelter.

I am a very happy boy though and have so much to give, I will be boarding the next UK transport, so keep an eye out for me, as I have so much to offer.

I will be assessed on arrival by the team in the UK in Essex, but if you think you may be able to offer a dog like me a home, please email:

deb@loveunderdogs.org

We are not able to say at this stage how he is with cats or children, but he currently shares a kennel with 3 other dogs.

NEW BOY:

Loki

Introducing you all to this wonderful boy, Loki, who has come to us through All Dogs Matter.

Loki was found as a stray in the UK, and after his 7 days at the pounds expired, he was due to be put to sleep.

All Dogs Matter got him from the pound and asked us to help, as Loki showed signs of neurological issues. This is something we have dealt with on a number of occasions through our work with our specialist vets at The Willows.

Loki's walks are punctuated with regular counter clockwise circles, which look to be a neurological issue, like a glitch in the brain. He had an MRI scan to the brain, over 300 images were taken and we are pleased say no brain damage or tumours were found. The vets also took a sample of the spinal fluid and blood to check for brain inflammation and meningitis. His results came back all clear.

The theory surrounding his peculiar behaviour is that he has a movement disorder, possibly brought on by a poor environment, he would have been in during his early life. We suspect he might have been kept in a confined space with little interaction, and developed a form of stereotypical behaviour. We are hopeful that this can be improved with training.

Good luck Loki, you're a fine young man and we hope that the rest of your life will be filled with happy moments and the love that you so much deserve.

Telo's Garden

In May this year we went to Germany to visit our dogs staying at sanctuary style accommodations.

Telo is an old boy who hasn't had much luck in his life and earlier on this year, we decided that he deserved a fantastic retirement if he was not going to find his forever home.

As it turns out, Telo has his own property at the shelter within a fantastic garden. In fact his space is probably bigger than the garden of most people, by quite a few times!

He also enjoys wonderful walks by the river. We thought you might like to see him and the new life he has.

What's Next?

OUR NEXT PROJECT AT THE SHELTER: A GROOMING ROOM!

Many of the dogs at the shelter have long coats and really need regular grooms.

In the winter matted coats remain damp and cold, which is very uncomfortable, and in the summer, the heat is unbearable with huge coats.

So out of this shed at the shelter will be created a dog care room which will incorporate the 'grooming area'.

Whilst the dogs are in the care of our Romanian partners, they need to be as comfortable as possible and all dogs feel a great deal better after having a good bath.

We will have more on this as soon as the construction starts.

Could you sponsor one of our long termers?

A number of our dogs have been in our care for a while as no family have come forward for them. Thanks to generous sponsors we are able to keep them in our care until a family comes forward.

For as little as £1 a week you can make a very real difference for one of our dogs.

Your Sponsorship pack will include:

- A photo of your sponsored dog.
- A Certificate of Sponsorship.
- A Love Underdogs charity wristband.

You will also receive an update of your dog 3 times a year.

Summer Fete Germany

At the end of May, we joined the staff and volunteers at our shelter in Germany for our yearly celebration and open day.

It was a wonderful day and the turnout was excellent with over 400 people attending.

It was a great opportunity to catch up with friends and see all our dogs currently residing at the sanctuary/shelter.

We were also very happy to see Fido and his new family who visited on the day.

Here are a few pictures we took on the day.

Zani had to wear a cone due to an allergic reaction on his front leg which needed to be left alone.

Cooking for your Dog

Make some summery treats for your dog – and why not!

Frozen Coconut Oil and Blueberry Treats

For this summer edition we share with you a wonderfully healthy and cool treat.

INGREDIENTS

Small silicone heart mold, other shapes of course will do fine :)
1/2 cup coconut oil, in solid form
Frozen blueberries

INSTRUCTIONS

Place a frozen blueberry into each heart in the silicone mold. Set aside.
In a small saucepan, heat coconut oil until it liquefies.
Allow coconut oil to cool for a few minutes, then carefully pour oil into the heart mold.
Carefully place mold into the fridge to solidify.
When coconut oil treats are solid, pop them out of the mold.
Store coconut oil treats in a baggie in the freezer.
